Always refrigerate perishable food within TWO HOURS.

This does not just mean two hours in your receiving area! Two hours is the total amount of time the food may spend out of proper temperature storage—whether at the store, in transit or in your receiving area.

When temperatures exceed 90° outside, refrigerate food within one hour.