Many Washington households struggle to put food on the table. The most recent data show:

- 10.8% of households were “food insecure,” or struggled to afford a nutritionally adequate diet.
- Median income was 7.7% above the 2007 level, after adjusting for inflation.
- 11% of the population lived below the poverty line.
- 14.3% of children lived below the poverty line.
- 8% of elderly lived below the poverty line.

SNAP reaches needy populations: Between 95 and 100% of eligible individuals participated in SNAP in Washington in 2015, and 82% of eligible workers participated.

SNAP kept 208,000 people out of poverty in Washington, including 96,000 children, per year between 2009 and 2012, on average. (These figures adjust for households’ underreporting of benefits.)

What Benefits Do SNAP Recipients Receive?

SNAP targets benefits according to need. Very poor households receive more SNAP benefits than households closer to the poverty line since they need more help affording an adequate diet. SNAP recipients in Washington received $1.36 billion in benefits in 2017.

How Does SNAP Benefit the Economy?

Moody's Analytics estimates that in a weak economy, $1 in SNAP benefits generates $1.70 in economic activity. Households receive SNAP benefits on electronic benefit transfer (EBT) cards, which can be used only to purchase food at one of the 263,100 authorized retail locations around the country, including some 5,100 in Washington.
